About me

"I didn't start as a designer.

I started from a camera.

Somewhere between capturing moments and editing footage, I fell in love with how visuals can tell a story — and that curiosity never stopped. From mini films in high school, to video production, to posters, to digital illustration. Each medium taught me something the previous one couldn't.

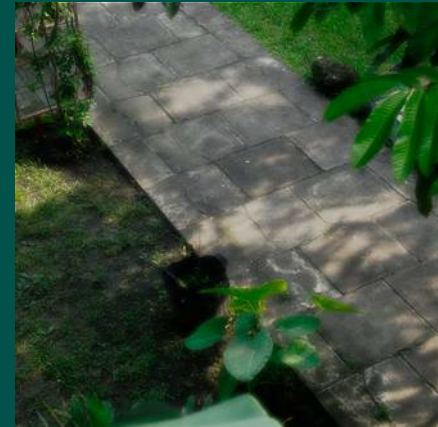

I graduated from Informatics Engineering — which means I understand how things are built, not just how they look. That's a perspective I bring into every creative work I do.

Right now, I'm freelancing, exploring, and building. No fixed title. Just someone who makes things look and feel right."

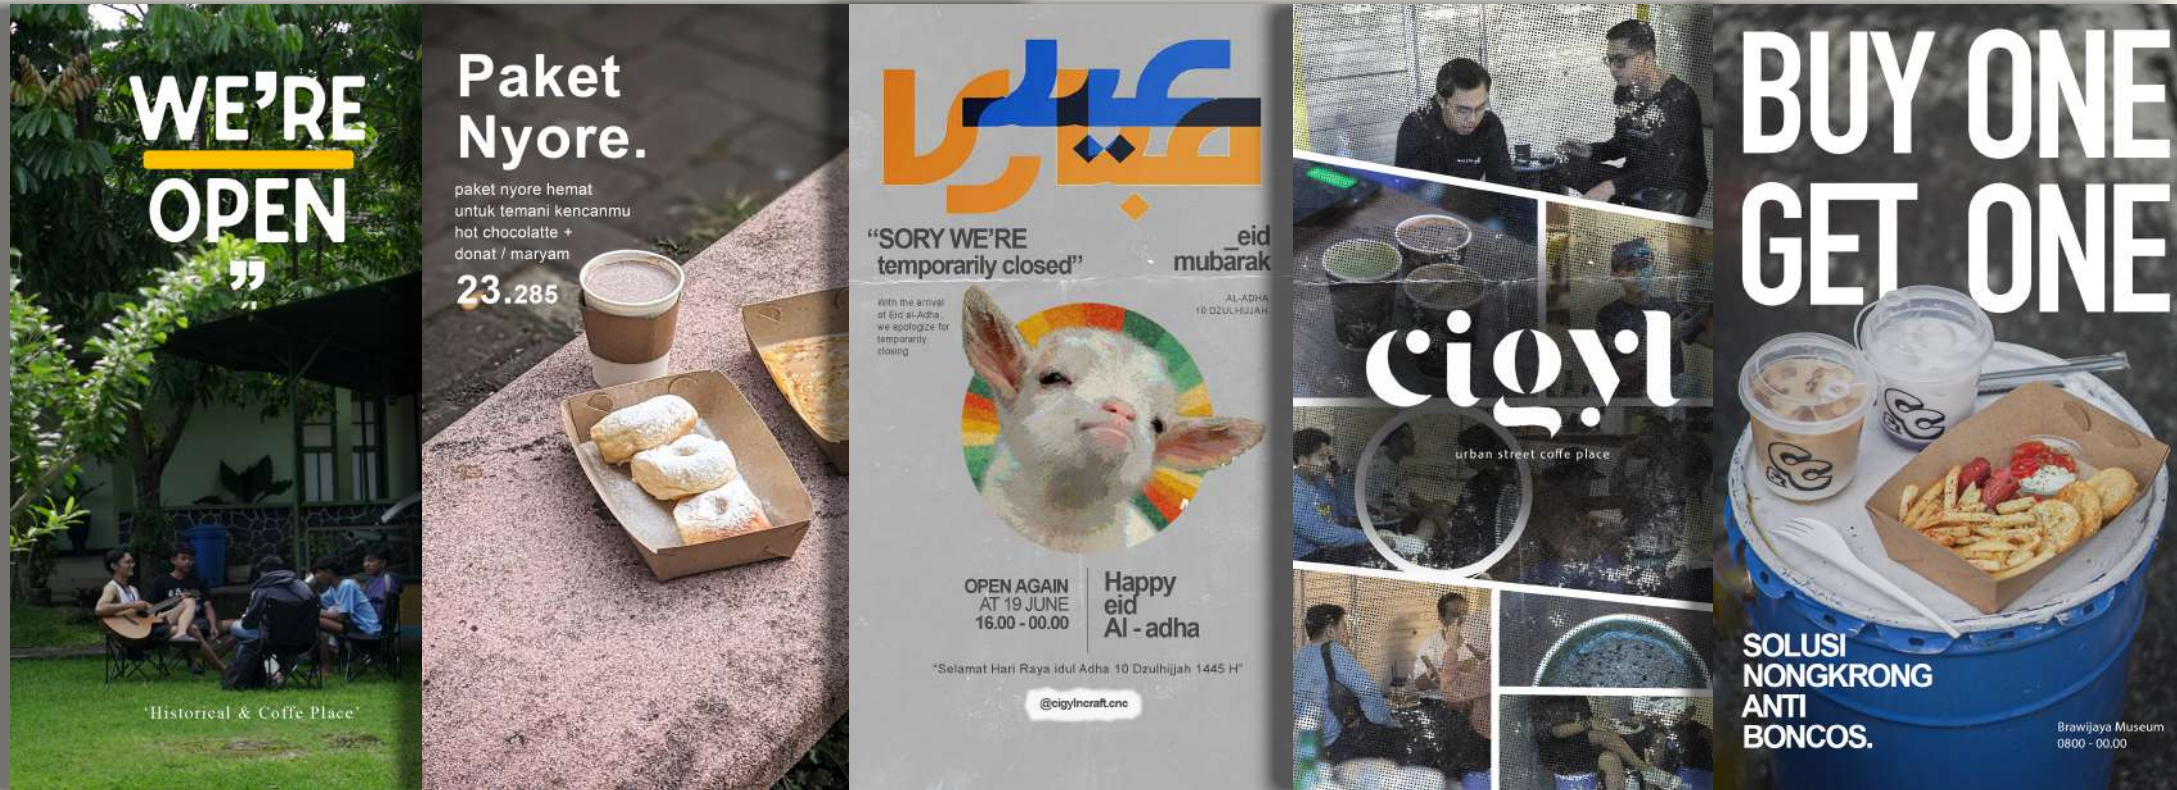

Social Media Branding.

Cigyl & Craft is a Historical & Coffee Place based in Malang — and this is the brand I built visually from scratch. From promotional posters to bundling campaigns, every content was designed to feel as warm as the place itself. Bold type, cinematic shots, local tone. Made to scroll-stop.

Cigyl & Craft is more than a coffee spot — it's where visuals, lifestyle, and stories collide. Every content piece isn't just made to be seen, it's made to be felt. From outfit catalogues to cafe ambience shots, everything is designed to reflect a brand that feels warm, authentic, and close to real life.

REBRAND

Mistique The Workshop

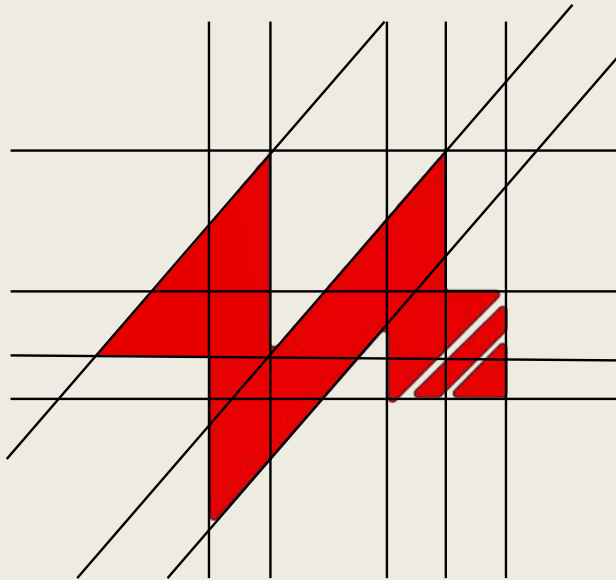

Mistique The Workshop is an automotive electrical workshop that was once inactive — and needed more than just a new look.

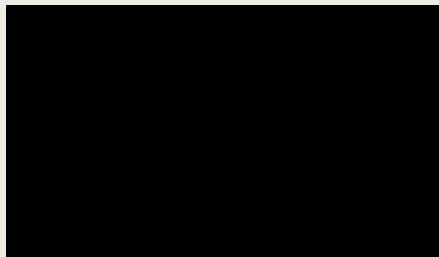

It needed an identity.

The name 'Mistique' carries the idea of something almost magical:
electrical problems that seem impossible, suddenly fixed.

That concept became the foundation of everything.

The lightning bolt in the 'M' isn't just a decorative element — it's a literal representation of electrical current, shaped into the first letter of the brand. Red was intentional: energy, urgency, and power.

The Audiowide typeface was chosen to match the technical yet bold character of an automotive workshop.

The process started with pencil sketches, moved to digital, and ended with a complete brand guidelines document sense of

PHOTOGRAPHY

Human Object.

Every frame is a decision.

Human or object, staged or candid — photography for me is about finding the story that was already there, waiting to be seen. From concert stages to quiet afternoons,
the camera doesn't lie."

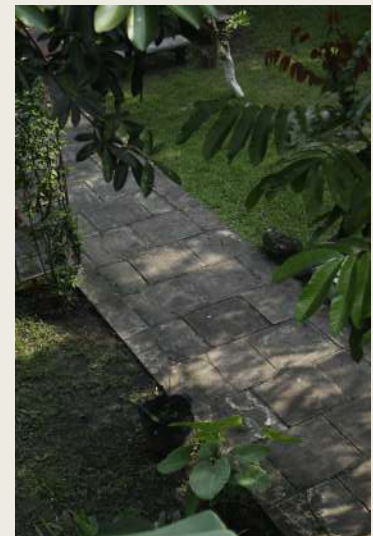

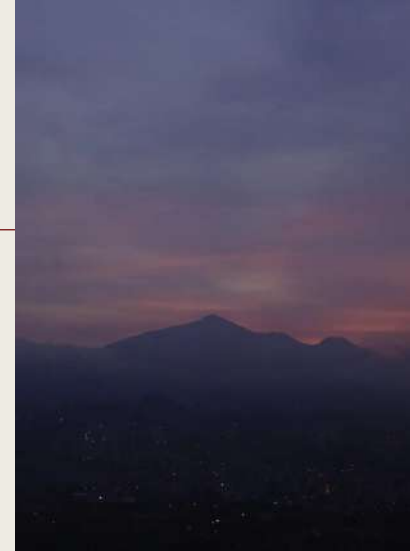

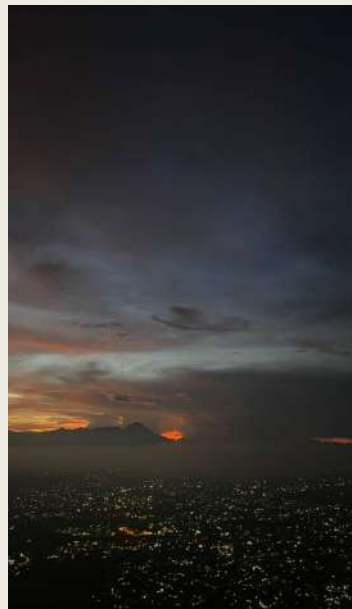

In Between.

Not everything needs a subject.

Sometimes the story lives in the sky before it darkens,
in the crowd of koi fighting for space,
in the geometry of a corridor nobody walked through.

These are the frames taken in between — quiet, honest, and always there.
